

Redcentric Engage

Market Insights

Government policies, such as the recent Chancellor's Spring Budget, can affect our technology landscape. We've written a breakdown of key points from the budget to keep you informed.

Read more

As the transition from VMware to Broadcom looms, it's imperative that you understand the timeline and deadlines you need to adhere to, so that you can take the necessary actions promptly.

Read more

Are you looking to deliver exceptional customer service? This guide, from our omnichannel partner Cirrus, looks at what customers expect from great customer service and six best practices that you can implement.

Read the guide

Redcentric updates

Closure of support@redcentricplc.com mailbox: This email address will no longer be available from Wednesday 3rd April as we move to auto email processing to provide you with quicker responses. Read more here

Charity Walk – Scafell Skyline: At Redcentric we believe strongly in supporting charities and the great work they do. We're covering a staggering 36.9km with a vertical ascent of 8,907ft, in aid of the Children's Heart Surgery Fund. If you can support our team sponsor them here. Thank you.

Supporting local communities: Social value initiatives ensure we are giving back to our communities. Watch this video to see how we're giving young, underprivileged school children the opportunity to attend professional sports games and enjoy the most amazing atmosphere. Should you or your business be interested in getting involved with our initiative drop us a line. Watch the video here

Stuart Pooley
Service Management Director

Meet the team: Service Delivery Managers

At Redcentric, our workforce consists of hundreds of dedicated professionals spread across various departments, all committed to supporting our customers. Our greatest asset is our people. Allow us to introduce you to our teams, providing you with complete visibility of the departments poised and ready to assist you.

Our SDMs collaborate with you to continually enhance and improve service delivery. Discover more about the team and how they can help your organisation here.

About our SDM team

Facing challenges in public cloud and looking to get more from your investments?

We have a team of cloud experts that can help you. Heathrow Airport has chosen Redcentric as its trusted partner to advise, enable and support it with its Azure services and provide cutting-edge cloud solutions.

We're honoured to become a strategic long-term partner of Heathrow Airport. Working on a project-by-project basis on Heathrow's Azure journey since 2018, this new 4-year partnership means our Azure experts will work as an extension of Heathrow Airport's Commercial Digital team to enable them to go faster-to-market and provide enhanced agility.

Find out more about our Azure services

Innovation

A strategic approach to ransomware defence

Modern Workplace

WAN Insight

Penetration testing

UK&I Fortinet Security Day 2024

We know how important it is to protect your infrastructure from cyber-attack within an increasingly sophisticated threat landscape. We're proud to be sponsoring Fortinet's UK&I Security Day 2024 on Thursday, 18th April in London. Register for the free event below and discover the key trends and technologies that can minimise disruption and deliver value to your organisation.

More about the event